

From: Josephine Cunningham
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/8/02 8:35am
Subject: Picking on Gates

Why doesn't the justice department go after the big monopoly of our government instead of picking on Gates who has done more to keep our economy growing than any fat politician in Washington? Michael Gates has earned every cent that he has. I thought there was some-thing called "Free Enterprise" in this country. I do not begrudge anyone the fruit of their own labor. The government should not be allowed to take anything from any individual (or his corporation) and distribute it to another. By squashing those we deem more successful than ourselves we stifle our own quest for excellence. Let's learn from Gates instead of destroying him.